

Gratitude — Enough and More

Verse 1

In the stillness at the start of the day,
Before the noise has something to say,
I slow my thoughts, I lift my eyes,
And I wonder what I've missed in the rush of life.
How have I seen Your hand in me?
In the doors You closed, the ways You freed?
Was it in the waiting, the moments unseen,
Where You were shaping more than I could see?

Pre-Chorus

If I stop and look around,
Grace is everywhere I've found.

Chorus

Gratitude turns what I have into enough,
And more than I knew I was dreaming of.
It lifts my eyes from what I lack,
To all the good that's been right where I stand.
When I choose to see You in all I've been through,
I find You've been blessing me all along too.
Gratitude... brings my heart back home.

Verse 2

Do I tell the ones I love what they mean?
Do I say thank you for the things unseen?
For steady hands and faithful hearts,
For staying close when life feels hard.
How can I show more gratitude today?
In the words I choose, the time I give away.
Taking moments just to say,
"I see you, and I'm thankful you stayed."

Pre-Chorus

When I elevate my mind,
I leave comparison behind.

Chorus

Gratitude turns what I have into enough,
Replaces fear with a quiet trust.
Hope rises where doubt once stayed,
And joy fills the empty space.
When I stop chasing what I don't need,
Connection becomes everything.
Gratitude... opens my eyes again.

Bridge

Negative thoughts begin to fade,
When thankfulness leads the way.
Despair gives way to deeper joy,
When I notice what You've already provided.
I don't need more to feel complete,
I need perspective at Your feet.

Final Chorus

Gratitude aligns my heart with Yours,
Teaches me what really matters more.
Along this journey, step by step,
I see I've always had what I needed yet.
You've been faithful through every season,
Even when I couldn't find the reason.
Gratitude... teaches me to trust Your time.

Outro

With open hands and open eyes,
I see the gift before my life.
Gratitude turns what I have into enough—and more.
